

Your Resource

For Reopening

We're here to help you navigate the new normal

Preparing to reopen goes beyond restocking supplies - you need to rethink your workplace.

Set Up for Social Distancing

Reopening safely means redesigning your workplace. We've created effective spaces for many clients and we can help you adapt yours for today's guidelines: spreading out and reorienting workstations, adding screens and panels, retrofitting workspaces and reconfiguring floorplans.

Prepare for Protection and Prevention

Infection control is going to be a key factor when you reopen your business. Incorporating health screenings, keeping PPE supplies ready, adding hands-free dispensing and reducing touch points are essential. Look to us for solutions that help minimize transmission.

Make Clean a Priority

Cleaning is critical to providing a safe return to work. In addition to disinfecting, sanitizing and hand hygiene, consider smooth, easy-clean surfaces. Think durable, bleach cleanable, antimicrobial – we have options to update your space for new cleaning standards.

Communicate Clearly

The workplace is changing and it will be important to keep your workforce informed. Our signage and boards are a smart way to communicate new protocols, social-distancing reminders, cleaning guidelines, hallway traffic flow and more.

Plan for Safety Supplies

PPE, disinfectants and sanitizers will now be a workplace staple, and you'll want at least a 30-day supply. Our storage, dispensing and disposal solutions will help you manage these supplies and provide easy access in public areas and at personal workspaces.
